Warfield in race

GRANITE CITY — Without any fanfare, Street Superintendent Mac Warfield formally entered the race for mayor Tuesday.

Warfield picked up his election petitions from City Clerk Robert Stevens and became the first declared opponent of Mayor Von Dee Cruse in the April city election.

"We got started about two weeks ago," Warfield said. "We just think we can do a better job for the city."

Warfield was the victim of an anonymous smear campaign this weekend. Letters were distributed in several neighborhoods charging him with "illegal" activities while superintendent of streets.

"That kind of stuff doesn't bother us — people understand mud," Warfield said. "The only thing that counts is the truth."

Asked if a big formal campaign kickoff is planned, Warfield said: "Probably so."

"It's not going to take long to get (the petitions) signed, what with the good weather and all," Warfield said. "A lot of people have come up to pass them around and a lot of people are supporting us."

"Basically, that's what we've been doing the past two weeks — forming committees, getting set up to pass the petitions, just working on things."

Warfield was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor in 1985.

Man held for son's murder

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Reconstruction by an Illinois State Police artist of the remains of a man — whose body was found in a remote area of Southern Illinois more than a year ago — has led to identification of the victim and to the arrest of his father for murder.

An 81-year-old Venice man has been charged in the shooting death of his 35-year-old son. Another son is charged with helping to conceal the homicide.

The alleged murder occurred more than a year ago in Eagle Park near Madison, authorities contend.

A preliminary appearance is set for Wednesday on a first-degree murder charge filed against Albert Johnson, 81, of the 200 block of Kerr Street, Venice.

Johnson and his son, Robert

Lee Johnson, 40, East St. Louis, were charged with concealment of a homicidal death.

The charges relate to the death of Levell Johnson, 35, 200 block of Hill Street, Eagle Park, who was believed shot at Eagle Park between Sept. 30 and Oct. 11, 1987, according to Lt. Dennis Fisher, chief of detectives for the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

The two Johnsons were arrested as a result of a joint investigation by the sheriff's office and the Illinois State Police Division of Criminal Investigation.

Levell Smith's decomposed body was found by a hunter on Oct. 11, 1987, in a remote area of Pulaski County, near Olmsted, said Connell Smith, commander of the State Police DCI office in Marion. The area where the body was discovered is about 50 miles south of Marion.

Death was determined to have been from a gunshot wound, but the victim was never positively identified until Nov. 3, 1988.

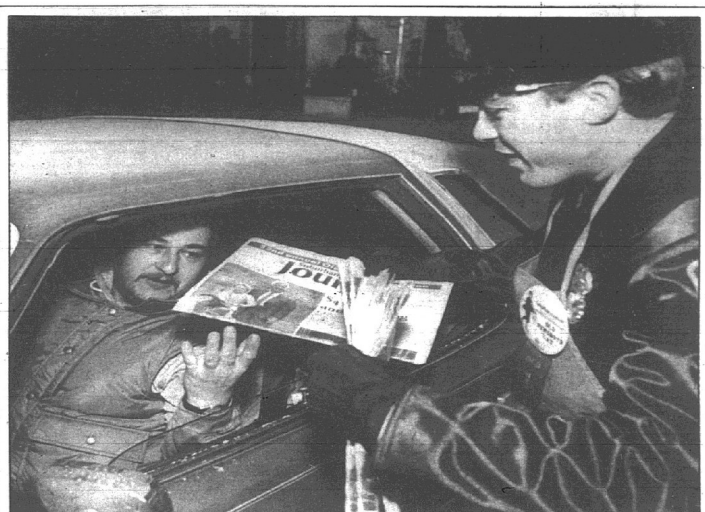

Smith said information was developed from a source, leading the DCI to request a photograph of Levell Johnson.

The resemblance between the photo and the reconstruction sketch made by the state police artist was "very close," Smith said.

Identification was further verified by the State Police crime lab, the commander said.

The resulting investigation led to evidence allegedly implicating Albert Johnson. The type of weapon used in the shooting and certain other aspects of the case cannot be disclosed at the present time, Smith said.

GC schools implement DARE program

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Drug Awareness Resistance Education (DARE) program will be coming to District 9 schools in February if local law enforcement is available.

"It's not a question of our participation," L. Monroe Worthen, school treasurer, said. "It's a must. It's the only substantial (drug) program we have at the elementary level."

On Tuesday night, the board agreed to underwrite the cost of the program, not to exceed $15,000, until another funding source can be found — and if a local law enforcement officer is available for the program.

DARE is designed for fifth- and sixth-graders to make them aware of illegal drugs that they might be confronted with at the junior high school level. The program began in Los Angeles four years ago and came to Illinois last year.

The biggest involvement on the community's part is to furnish an officer to teach the program and pay his salary. Training for the officer and workbooks used by students in the program are furnished by the state.

"The whole community will benefit from this program," Worthen said. "There is no doubt about that."

He said he is currently working on a fundraising committee to offset the program's cost.

"The district owes it to the community to get this project off dead center," Member Mack Johnson said.

While the district will get DARE, it probably will not get an overpass.

Member Roy Koberna, who has actively sought a pedestrian overpass over Nameeki Road at Jill Avenue for several months, all but conceded defeat.

He recently enlisted the help of Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene, who promised to write to the proper officials in the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The response was not good.

"They don't agree with our philosophy," Koberna said.

"(They say) the kids are 100 percent at fault and they are not going to make any exceptions."

"I guess they feel it's not worth their time or money."

With this most recent refusal, Koberna said he doubts the upcoming turn lane addition on Nameeki Road.

"I hate to see someone get hurt to make them do something," Koberna said. "It looks like that's what it's going to take."

TREE OF LIGHTS goal of $75,000 is announced by drive chairman Bob Wydra during the kickoff luncheon Tuesday.

Yule drive for $75,000 starts here

By Bill Winter
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Efforts began Tuesday to raise $75,000 for Christmas and winter relief programs of the Salvation Army. A gathering of 100 at the annual "Tree of Lights" kickoff luncheon was addressed by Robert L. Wydra, campaign chairman.

General manager of the Tri-City Regional Port District Wydra said, "Soon you'll see Christmas kettles and hear the familiar bell ringing at busy stores and street corners."

"For 97 years, the kettle has been the cornerstone of our collections to help those in need. The volunteers and those who give symbolize the spirit of Christmas generosity."

"Through the 1988 Tree of Lights, more than six million people will be helped across the nation, including 4,000 in our community."

"There will be toys for children who wouldn't have much of a Christmas without our help. There will be meals for hungry families, and visits to elderly residents of nursing homes."

"Caring means sharing, and there is always an outstanding response to our drive because you care."

Presiding were James Schmiedke, Salvation Army board president, and Don Adams, Rotary president. Prayers were offered by Mr. and Mrs. C. Hartley, the local Salvation Army captains.

COLLINSVILLE — Formation of a citizens' committee to support joint military and civilian use of Scott Air Force Base was announced Wednesday.

A slide show to be used to promote the project was also unveiled.

The announcement came on the heels of the release of the third phase of a feasibility study of proposed joint use operations at the big air base near Belleville.

The report, prepared by a private consulting firm, continues to maintain that joint use of Scott is the best way to provide commercial air service to southwest Illinois and relieve air traffic congestion at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport.

County OKs $54 million budget effective Dec. 1

EDWARDSVILLE — Despite the fact that the new Madison County budget approved Wednesday represents a 4.3 percent increase over last year, the property tax rate for the coming year is expected to be slightly lower.

The budget, which takes effect Dec. 1, the first day of the county's new fiscal year, totals $53,970,767. The current year's budget is $51,755,818.

Real estate taxes will raise $12,427,183 of the almost $54 million in the new budget, based on the 1988-89 tax levy also approved by the board Wednesday.

Under the new levy, the county's total tax rate is expected to drop from last year's 80.1 cents per $100 assessed valuation to

GC Auxiliary Police seek candidates

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A recruitment drive to expand Granite City's Auxiliary Police force was announced Friday by Louise Wade, Emergency Services and Disaster Agency coordinator.

The auxiliary unit is a vital element in the community's emergency services organization, formerly civil defense, and it also aids police department personnel in performing specific tasks, she said.

"I'd like to see the auxiliary force doubled," said Wade. Current strength of the unit is about 25 members.

Men and women, 18 years old and older, are being encouraged to apply for auxiliary police membership, the coordinator said.

Anyone with a Granite City mailing address, including residents of Pontoon Beach, Mitchell and rural areas, is invited to apply.

Applications are available through Friday, Dec. 16, at the Granite City Police Department, 2330 Madison Ave., from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Candidates will be trained by certified police officers in the use of firearms in a 40-hour course, Wade said.

On training will consist of first-aid, CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation), use of emergency vehicles, radio operations, emergency response and traffic control.

Auxiliary officers currently are participating in a "ride-along" program by accompanying police department members in squad cars.

This part of the training process enables auxiliaries to better understand procedures during actual emergency situations, Wade said.

Applicants should be high school graduates or have a GED equivalency certificate and a valid driver license.

Background checks of prospective candidates will be made and persons who have been arrested on a felony charge will not be accepted, the coordinator said.

Auxiliary officers supplement police personnel by affording assistance during all types of disasters and emergency situations when additional trained persons are essential.

The auxiliaries also aid police officers with traffic control at high school football and basketball games and at other functions.

CPR techniques class scheduled Nov. 22

Techniques that save thousands of heart attack victims yearly will be taught at the CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) Techniques Class on Tuesday, Nov. 22, from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

at the Going Strong Wellness Center, 22nd and Iowa streets.

It is open to the community. Participants will learn basic life support Course A (1-rescuer adult CPR and adult obstructed airway). Cost is $5 and pre-registration is required.

To register or for more information, the Wellness Center may be called at 798-3261.

This letter is to thank you for your business this past year and also to notify you of our "Fall furnace start up special."

With the long cold winter nights just around the corner it is time to get the furnace cleaned and checked so as to help prevent costly breakdowns as well as obtain maximum operating efficiency of your system. Our ten part start up special includes:

1. Clean burners. Rust and dirt accumulation on burners can cause incomplete burning of gas and increase your fuel bill.
2. Check flue or chimney for draft. Squirrels, birds and soot can clog a flue almost overnight.
3. Check heat exchanger. This is the heart of the furnace and should be inspected annually.
4. Blower motor and fan. Oiling and cleaning can add years of life to these components.
5. Thermostat. Heat anticipator settings have as much to do with comfort inside your home as proper clothing does outside.
6. Fan and limit control. Fan should cycle on and off without wasting fuel. The limit is your protection against overheating.
7. Gas valve and pilot assembly. A clean assembly will help keep your pilot burning and save you money.
8. Check filters. If you need extra filters call us with size and we will bring them with us when we schedule your cleaning.
9. Power supply. Check fuse or circuit breaker for proper size. Check general condition of wiring connections.
10. Gas piping at furnace. Check for leaks or deterioration of pipe and fittings.

The cost of this service is only $18.95. Our customers are being notified of this opportunity in advance of newspaper ads so you can schedule your "Fall start up special" at your convenience. We thank you for your business this past year and hope we can continue to service your heating, A/C, and plumbing in the future.

*Filters and defective parts if required are extra.
*Solder cleaning is slightly higher.
*Coupons are not valid winter.

The invocation was given by Rita Kelahan Hill, and the benediction by Dorothy (Greendonner) Cobleigh.

Randall Robertson was the master of ceremonies.

Comments were given by Louis Branding and Katherine Stracké. Letters were read by Lorraine Kreher Parkinson.

The graduation class consisted of 149 students. In attendance at the reunion were 83 class members, 45 spouses, 12 friends of

Members of the reunion planning committee were: Dorothy (Greendonner) Cobleigh, Margaret (Toth) Fichte, Harry Fryntzko, Frances (Hall) Harper, Elnora (Delmar) Hawk, Rita (Kelahan) Hill, Lois (Kruesscheck) Holsinger, Grace (Westlake) Lignoul, Mary (Taft) McCollum, Elmer Neuman, Lorraine (Kreher) Parkinson, Thelma (Barnett) Peterson, Adrienne (Schlechte) Reuter and Helen (Marcovsky) Toncoff.

Members all agreed that another reunion should be held in five years.

Matthew 6:13... "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

Jesus taught us to pray for deliverance from evil. We know that evil abounds everywhere. There is no refuge, no hiding place, except in the Lord.

The fact is that many people do not pray for deliverance. They simply accept Satan's attacks against their loved ones, their homes, and themselves.

We are taught to pray in faith and believe, and Christ will answer our prayers. This certainly includes prayers for deliverance from evil.

When your circumstances overwhelm you, why not try praying according to God's Word? Let me say this: Be ready for an answer for the Lord hears and answers the prayers of his people.

He will hear you pray, Today.

If your floor features quarry tile or flagstone, it's a good idea to protect the grout with a sealer. Lots easier than cleaning it once it gets dirty.

Another kind of "reverse mortgage": donating one's home to a college or charity in exchange for an annuity and a tax deduction. Donor can also get a lifetime right to live in the house.

You can paint over a wood-paneled wall, as long as you wash off all wax, polish and dirt with paint thinner or other solvent. Before you paint, sand lightly to remove gloss, and prime with enamel undercoat.

Little log cabin in the woods? Not the 21,000-square-foot log "palace" in Eastport, Idaho, near the Canadian border. With seven bedrooms, 10 baths, and seven miles of radiant-heat coils, it cost between $1 and $2 million—and about 1,200 big trees—to build.

Smoke!

Millions & millions giving it up in a great American effort

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

Today is the day. During the Great American Smokeout, millions of people attempt to stop smoking for 24 hours. The idea is that they will stop for good if they can last one day.

By now, even the most dedicated smoker won't argue with the health warnings carried on cigarette packs. One of the four warnings used on a rotating basis says it all: "Quitting smoking now greatly reduces serious risks to your health."

Those risks include increased susceptibility to cancer, emphysema and heart disease. Thanks to the efforts of a number of groups, public and private, most American smokers now readily acknowledge that smoking is bad for them.

According to the American Lung Association, almost nine out of 10 of the estimated 50 million Americans who still smoke say they want to quit.

If you are one of those, and you try to quit today, at least you'll have company. Last year, 19.5 million smokers participated, according to the American Cancer Society, the Smokeout's organizer.

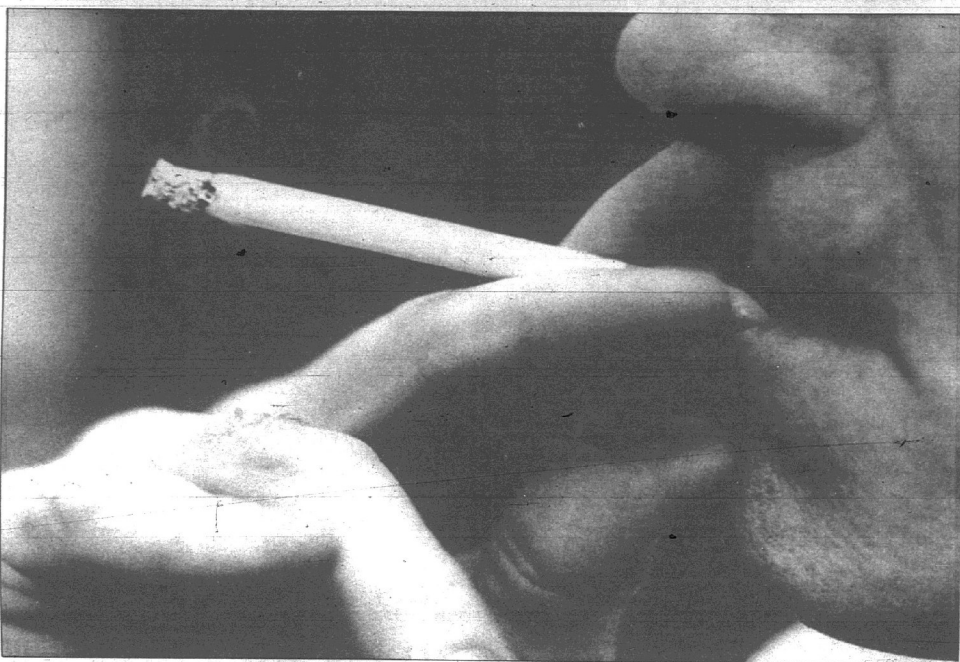

The Smokeout was inspired in 1974 by a Minnesota newspaper publisher who wanted the 1,800 people of his town to go smokeless for one day. Through editorials, Lynn R. Smith of Monticello, Minn., succeeded. The event received extensive media coverage, and in 1977 the Cancer Society made it a nationwide program.

That year, according to information furnished by the society, 37 percent of all American adults were smokers. Today, fewer than 30 percent are, and more than 37 million are ex-smokers.

Clearly, it is possible to quit. If you're getting a late start on the Smokeout, which officially runs from midnight to midnight, you can start now.

Here are a few "quit tips" from the ACS:

- Hide all ashtrays, matches, etc.
- Lay in a supply of sugarless gum, carrot or celery sticks to satisfy the oral craving you will experience.

• Drink lots of liquids, but pass up coffee and alcohol.

• Tell everyone you're quitting for the day.

• When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath, hold it for 10 seconds and release it slowly.

• Exercise to relieve the tension of wanting to smoke.

• Try the buddy system and ask a friend to quit too.

Non-smokers are encouraged to "adopt a smoker" for the day and render help and encouragement. A sympathetic approach would be for the non-smoker himself to give up something for the day, such as coffee, alcohol or sweets.

SEMC course offers help

GRANITE CITY — St. Elizabeth Medical Center offers smoking cessation courses twice a year. The next course starts in early January.

Those who fail to make it successfully through the Great American Smokeout today — or who make it but relapse — may want to sign up for the four-week SEMC course.

Dan McDowell, director of Pulmonary Services at the hospital, said the SEMC program is recommended by the American Cancer Society, sponsor of the Smokeout.

About 35 persons have participated so far in four sessions of the program. Each session lasts four weeks, meeting once a week. The most recent session concluded Oct. 26.

In the first week, smokers are educated about the why and how of smoking addiction, the physiological effects of smoking, and ways of stopping. The most important part of stopping is setting a definite "quit date" and making plans to stop on that day, McDowell said.

The second week's session deals with managing the first few days of quitting: the symptoms you will experience, such as sleepiness or mental confusion, and techniques for managing the stress those symptoms produce, such as deep-breathing, substituting cinnamon sticks or chewing gum for cigarettes, etc.

The third and fourth sessions deal with strategies on how to stay off tobacco.

Nicotine substitutes are available on prescription, although they are not recommended.

Using a nicotine substitute, said McDowell, is "just substituting one crutch for another."

The U.S. surgeon general has called nicotine "as addictive as heroin or cocaine."

McDowell said quitting smoking "is the single hardest thing you will ever do in your life."

McDowell should know: he is a former three-pack-a-day man.

He tried quitting several times. He tried switching to a pipe. Finally, he quit cold turkey 10 years ago.

So it can be done.

McDowell and Paula Gonterman, supervisor of Respiratory Therapy at the hospital, said the group therapy approach they use seems to work best. But if you want to quit on your own, they offer these suggestions:

• Be assertive. Let those close to you know that you are trying to quit and that you may have to curtail or modify activities you normally engage in with them.

• Begin a program of moderate exercise; those with health problems should consult their doctor on this.

The American Cancer Society says that every year two million Americans stop smoking — many because of severe health problems such as heart attack, lung cancer, emphysema.

McDowell suggests you may not want to wait as long as one individual who recently completed the SEMC course. The person had inoperable lung cancer.

"We would much prefer that you give us a chance while you have a chance," McDowell said.

GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT

Variety of courses offered

Data from the U.S. Public Health Service suggest that nearly 20 percent of those who try to quit smoking succeed on their first try. By their seventh attempt, nearly 40 percent have quit.

There are two ways to look at that: The odds are against your quitting successfully. But it can be done.

Here is a list of area hospitals (and their phone numbers) that offer courses. Most cost between $20 and $45. If one is not currently conducting the course, another may be.

Lost In This Space

By Andy Siering

Bill of Rights up in smoke?

If you think Surgeon General C. Everett Koop is down on smoking, get an earful of King James I:

Should men not be ashamed, to sit tossing off tobacco pipes, and puffing of the smoke of Tobacco one to another, making the filthy smoke and stibke thereof, to exhale athwart the dishes, and infect the aire, when very often men that abhorre it are at their repast? ... it makes a kitchen also offensive in the inward parts of men, soiling and infecting them, with an unctuous and oily kind of Soote, as hath bene found in some great Tobacco takers, that after their death were opened.

Have you not reason then to bee ashamed, and to forbeare this filthy noveltie ... a custome loathsome to the Lungs, and in the black stinking fume thereof, nearest resembling the horrible Stigian smoke of the pit that is bottomless.

I'm not sure if those eccentric spellings are James' own invention or the conventional spellings of the time. One thing is certain: They are quite literally the King's English, nyuk nyuk.

Seriously, I'm trying to quit smoking today for the Great American Smokeout (in case you hadn't noticed the rest of this page). Maybe I'll be able to stay quit. I agree with King Jim that smoking is a vile addiction and bad for your health.

But there are a number of things that bug me about the anti-smoking campaign. For instance, anti-smoking arguments often mention the health costs of smoking. I mean literally the costs.

It is claimed that medical care benefits are used 50 percent more often by smokers than by non-smokers and that employers spend about $300 extra per smoker in insurance claims. Smokers on average miss 2.2 more days of work each year than non-smokers and a total of 81 million more days.

I don't wish to appear too cynical, but those costs are probably the strongest reasons behind companies banning smoking on the job. Moreover, it is said that anti-smoking laws have issued directives to their personnel departments to give preferential hiring to non-smokers, while others have demanded that current workers quit smoking entirely, not just at work.

Excuse me, but what happened to the Constitution? Is all this some sort of invasion of privacy? I would not be the least bit surprised to see a smoking ban declared completely illegal some day. Then we'll no doubt see the rise of "smokelessies," followed by "tinfoilables," special federal agents charged with shutting them down.

The smokelessies will try to circumvent the Unpuffables with code words. "Knock twice and say, 'C. Everett sent me.'"

Is a pattern? It's inevitable, for there started with testing athletes for drugs, went to roadblock stops for DUIs — both of which seem to me clear violations of constitutional guarantees of privacy, due process and freedom from unreasonable searches. The pattern may end with everyone being tested for everything.

You think I'm being extreme?

On Monday, Secretary of Transportation James H. Burnley IV announced a new policy mandating random drug tests for the nation's four million transportation workers. Included are airline pilots, flight attendants and mechanics, truckers, sailors and railroad workers. Air traffic controllers are already subject to such regulations.

Missouri Senator Jack Danforth said Monday that he would reintroduce legislation in January to require transportation workers to undergo random testing for drug and alcohol use.

Are these moves just? Here's what Burnley had to say: "The potentially disastrous consequences from even a single mistake because of drug use have compelled us to issue these rules in the hope that we can eliminate drug use from these critical jobs."

Nobody wants to die because some goofball was spaced out at work, but what price are we willing to pay in our futile attempts to secure absolute safety? How long before somebody repeals Burnley's proclamations ... potentially disastrous consequences ... compel us to ... repeal the Bill of Rights?

Where will this constitutional abuse end? There's a phrase for how we should react to these infringements of liberty: Just Say No.

Youth, 17, dies after cycle crash

GRANITE CITY — A 17-year-old youth from Mokena and Kenilworth, Ill., was fatally injured at 10:35 a.m. Tuesday when he lost control of the motorcycle he was riding in the 4000 block of Maryville Road near Illinois 203.

Charles H. Mihalovich was pronounced dead in the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 11:07 a.m.

Mr. Mihalovich was traveling east on Maryville when the Honda apparently struck the curb on the right shoulder of the roadway, causing it to hit a utility pole, an Illinois State Police spokesman said.

Authorities had difficulty establishing the youth's identity. His fingerprints were taken by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner and transmitted to Mokena.

Cooperation by the Mokena

Police and Illinois State Police enabled identity to be verified in about six hours.

A Granite City Fire Department ambulance crew responded and local police assisted state troopers at the scene.

Mr. Mihalovich had been employed in construction work in Plano, Texas, and was working his way back to Texas. It was not known if he had been working in this area.

Among the survivors are his parents, Donald Mihalovich and Kathleen Conner, both of Mokena; and two brothers, Donald Mihalovich and Dennis Conner, and a sister, Kathryn Mihalovich, all of Mokena.

Graveside services are scheduled at 10 a.m. Saturday at Momena Cemetery. Werner Chapel for Funerals, 3039 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, handled arrangements.

Deb Faber, present at the meeting, will be chairman of the citizens' committee. Faber is a former Air Force public relations officer at the base.

She said the committee, which is to be all-volunteer, already has $20,000 in pledges and actual funds to promote the joint use project.

Mathias said a one-year budget of about $100,000 would be needed.

Although the committee does not yet have a permanent address, Faber said correspondence can be sent to Citizens' Committee for Scott Joint Use, P.O. Box 8166, Belleville, Ill. 62222.

78.05 cents for the coming tax year, even though the amount levied is more than the current levy of $12,033.97.

County Director of Administration James Monday said prior to Wednesday's meeting the new levy would have been lower if voters in the March primary had not approved a 2.5-cent rate increase for the county's sheltered care and nursing homes.

The estimated 1988 tax rate is based on an anticipated 2 percent increase in the county's assessment base and includes the new tax for the sheltered care and nursing homes, Monday said.

A new quarter-cent county sales tax represents the most significant feature of the new budget and accounts for the lower estimated tax rate, said Finance Committee Chairman Bill Little, D-Alton.

Little said the new tax levy is $685,000 lower than it would have been because of the sales tax revenues that will be used to reduce the general fund property tax rate.

Proceeds from the tax will also be used to replace federal revenue sharing for county capital expenditures and to pay for salary and health insurance fee increases for some county employees.

Little said $1.25 million of the sales tax money will be placed in a fund for a planned new county administration building across the street from the County Courthouse.

Little said the Buildings Committee and architect Leo A. Daly are expected to provide a cost estimate for the new building at meetings scheduled for early next year.

To Those I Love

Isla Paschal Richardson

If I should ever leave you whom I love to go along the silent way grieve not.
Nor speak of me with tears, but laugh and talk of me as if I were beside you there.
I'd come - I'd come, could I but find a way!
But would not tears and grief be a barrier?

And when you hear a song or see a bird I loved,
please do not let the song of me be sad.
For I am Loving you just as I always have.

Burglary charged in theft of guitar

GRANITE CITY — Curtis J. Duboise, 25, of the 2000 block of Illinois Avenue, was charged with burglary in an information issued Nov. 14 through the Madison County State's Attorney's Office.

The charge against Duboise involved the alleged theft of a Gibson Byrdland guitar in a black case which was taken Oct. 31 from under a seat in the auditorium at Bethel Chapel Church, West 25th Street and Ohio Avenue.

The guitar, valued at $1,820, was owned by Paul Chester, 2700 block of West 20th Street.

The warrant was signed by Circuit Judge Phillip J. Rarick, who set bail at $25,000.

Complaints filed, battery alleged

Two of three people who went to an address in the 2300 block of Bryan Avenue to retrieve a sweater filed complaints alleging battery against a man there at 2:10 a.m. Nov. 10.

Jeffrey A. Martin, 26, 3900 block of Lake Street, Pontoon Beach, was arrested on two counts of battery after complaints were signed by Kelly Vorce and Peter Rogozinsky, both of the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard.

Vicki Parker, Vorce and Rogozinsky reported going to the Bryan Avenue address and were told by Martin they couldn't come in.

Martin allegedly told Rogozinsky in the throat with his boot, creating marks on his neck, a report said. Martin denied the allegation.

Parker and Vorce went inside the house and Martin allegedly picked up a lamp stand pole swinging it at Vorce and struck her, she alleged. He also hit her, Vorce alleged.

The pole also broke a bedroom window and Rogozinsky attempted to grab Martin through the window, but cut his right palm on the broken glass, he said.

Following a court appearance, Martin was released on recognizance.

Fifteen traffic mishaps, only one person hurt

Fifteen accidents, most occurring during rainy weather on Nov. 8, resulted in only one person sustaining a minor injury, according to reports.

An accident on Missouri Avenue at West 20th Street, involved a car driven by Lucinda R. Patreel, 33, of Park Towne West, who suffered an injury, and a Peterbilt tractor-trailer operated by Harold R. Bivins, 33, Bellevue, Ark., which was turning into Missouri Avenue from West 20th Street.

Patreel alleged the truck came into her lane and when she tried to stop her car, she slid into the truck's rear axle and hit a tire on the trailer.

Arrested on warrant

Michael J. Messick, 29, 2001 Washington Ave., was transferred Nov. 10 from Madison Police Department to Granite City on an active warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Battery alleged

Robert E. Garner, 46, of the 2000 block of Washington Avenue, was charged with battery when arrested Nov. 9 in the 1900 block of Grand Avenue.

Carolyn J. Cleeman, 36, of the 3800 block of Oakton Drive, Pontoon Beach, alleged Garner slapped her at Goldie's Tavern, 1000 State St. The victim's ear was red and slightly swollen, a report noted. Garner was released after posting $102 bail.

Vehicles burglarized

Two T-tops valued at $250 were stolen from a 1976 Corvette at Sunny Past Auto Body, 2351 E. Illinois Ave., it was reported Nov. 8.

A battery worth $65 and a cassette player valued at $100 were taken from a 1977 Caprice. An attempt to take a cassette player from a 1983 Chevette was unsuccessful, a report said.

Stolen card detected

An attempt to use a stolen credit card to purchase clothing at Tops 'N' Bottoms Shop, 1300 block of 19th Street, was detected Nov. 9 when the card was verified.

Console TV gone

A console television and a microwave oven were taken from an unoccupied house in the 3700 block of Myrtle Avenue, Roy Love, Roach, Mo., reported Nov. 8.

Entry into the house, which had been empty since the occupant died, was gained through a rear door, Love said.

$450 bicycle stolen

A 10-speed Raleigh bicycle valued at $450 was stolen from beneath the carport at the home of Scott McCabe, 3000 block of National Avenue, he reported Nov. 8.

Large chow dog stolen from yard

A large chow dog weighing 53 pounds was stolen from the rear fenced yard at the home of Elbert A. Roberts, 2800 block of Iowa Street.

Roberts, 52, said the 1-year-old male dog named Kim-Jo is worth $200. The animal is brown with a curled tail and black face.

In-dash radio gone

An in-dash radio valued at $350 was stolen from a 1983 Suzuki at the Novotney Chevrolet lot, 4100 Nameoki Road, Richard Kindie reported Nov. 8.

Burglarized twice

Blaze Magyar, 2200 block of State Street, reported Nov. 8 that a burglar broke the door knob, pried the door to his apartment and stole rolls of nickels and pennies.

The apartment also was burglarized four days earlier, Magyar said. Taken that time were $150 in coins and a watch.

Obstruction warrant

Bradley Carl Singleton, 24, 2200 block of Cleveland Boulevard, was arrested in the 2600 block of Madison Avenue at 3:40 a.m. Nov. 9 on an active warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of obstructing a peace officer.

Rental property damaged

Donald M. Randall, 2500 block Morrison Road, reported a fireplace mantel and a thermostat were torn from the wall at rental property he owns in the 2300 block of Terminal Avenue.

A set of keys and a claw hammer were missing and a handle and the lock on the garage door were damaged, he said.

Leather jacket gone

A gray leather jacket valued at $169 was stolen from a gym locker at Granite City High School, Dave Ritchie, 2800 block of Wayne Avenue, reported Nov. 9.

Warrant served at jail

Derek J. Minton, 43, Bethalto, was served an active Granite City warrant alleging deceptive practice at the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Sheila Shultz, 1500 block of Third Street, Madison, reported leaving her purse when she got off a Bi-State bus at 19th Street and Edison Avenue Nov. 8.

Food stamps missing

After reporting the loss to the bus company, she waited for the same bus to return to the downtown area and retrieved the purse, which was missing $102 worth of food stamps, she said.

The giving season again

Once again, 'tis the season to be besieged with requests for assistance to the needy, and we hope you don't tune out the words before you hear them.

Isn't it ironic that in a community as established as this one that there would be people literally starving? Face it: It's true. Ask any official with the Salvation Army or United Way, agencies that come into contact with such cases frequently, if not daily.

These problems are no less severe than the worst starvation in the world, because they are staring us right in the face. We must do something.

This week there are no less than four opportunities to do so.

Most important to us is today, the day of our annual Old Newsboys edition, which we distribute to raise funds for various children's causes. Hundreds of thousands of young people are helped in ways you would never dream, from purchase of equipment at the local Boys Club to purchase of linens at the local orphanage to supplies for children's library programs. Money donated this year will be used in some fashion for years to come and, best of all, every penny raised goes to charity.

This year, the sponsoring Suburban Journals have set a record goal of $300,000. Although the on-street collection took place this morning, while commuters were hustling to work, donations can still be made by mail for many days to come. Send them to: Old Newsboys Day, c/o the Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

Second on our list this year is the Salvation Army, which kicked off its annual holiday drive on Tuesday. Last year, the Tree of Lights campaign helped up 1,077 families. This year's kickoff was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Granite City. Donations may be sent to the Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

And, of a more immediate nature, is the current canned food drive of the Boy Scouts. Brightly designed plastic bags were distributed door to door over the past weekend, encouraging households to donate a couple of items that will be picked up this Saturday. The Scouting for Food project is a character-building one for the young members of the Cahokia Mounds Council. It can also serve as a heartwarming one for participating homes.

While they don't deal in food, the Pontoon Beach residents who are collecting toys for needy kids are doing just as big a service this holiday season. Friends will, for the fifth consecutive year, collect new and used toys for redistribution to kids who would not otherwise get one. A drop box has been established at LeRoy's Market on Pontoon Road and at the Pontoon Beach police station. Anyone wanting to submit the name of a needy child is invited to use one of the following numbers — 797-0094, 797-1531 or 931-6524.

Local man on high court

Not since 1951 has a Madison County resident served on the Illinois Supreme Court, but Horace Calvo, Glen Carbon Democrat, will be sworn in soon as the high court's newest justice. Jesse Simpson, Edwardsville Republican, served in 1947-51.

Although Judge Calvo lacks a law degree, voters showed confidence in his ability and experience. While residing in Granite City, he represented this area in the Illinois House for seven years. He resigned in June 1975 to become a circuit judge, and in October 1987 was assigned as an appellate judge.

With no "Reagan coat-tails" to aid Republican candidates this year, Democrats made great strides. In addition to continuing their majority on the Supreme Court, where Joseph Goldenhersh of Belleville retired, Democrats captured all four 5th District appellate judgeships, including both vacant positions and both new posts. Those elected were Charles Chapman, Philip Rarick, Robert Howerton and Goldenhersh's son, Richard.

Democrats won two circuit judgeships, a vacant post and a newly-created 3rd Circuit judgeship. Elected were Paul Riley, an appointed circuit judge, and Charles Romani, an associate judge.

Local circuit judge's exclusion of Republicans from associate judgeships remains unacceptable, from our viewpoint. Why they do it, at least, is clearer; with no chance to gain judicial experience, Republicans in this region fare poorly when seeking higher-level judgeships.

The election results leave the 3rd Circuit with four vacancies — three circuit judges (the Calvo, Chapman and Rarick posts) and one associate judge. The Illinois Supreme Court will appoint the three and the circuit judges collectively will choose a new associate.

Amendment option still open

A proposed state constitutional convention was rejected by voters this month, but many of the goals cited could be achieved as individual amendments.

These might include improving the Freedom of Information Act, banning "double dip" political jobs, curbing conflict-of-interest voting, expanding officials' income disclosure, empowering voters to propose laws by petitions and referendums, authorizing recall of officials, revising state school aid, requiring "plain English" in consumer contracts, permitting a "sunset law" for unneeded taxing districts and agencies, requiring state funding of state-set mandates for local governments, and allowing auditing of funds handled by courts.

The process is slower than what could have been done through a "con con." But it could be speeded by amending the constitution to allow more than three referendums at one time.

Dog law for city recommended

To the editor:

I commend Casmer Skubish and all the other City Council members on their extraordinary efforts in drafting a comprehensive law that will protect citizens from vicious dogs of all breeds.

Aldermen's concern and dedication to make Granite City a humane community can be seen in their responsiveness to other animal issues as well.

Without a doubt, the most pressing animal issue in this county is overpopulation. Last year, over 3,000 dogs and cats were euthanized at the county animal shelter alone.

The idea of instituting a differential licensing system in Granite City is a sound one: People who contribute to the animal overpopulation problem should pay more for a license than those people who have their animals neutered or spayed. Alton already has a differential system in place, and Wood River is contemplating adopting one.

Differential licensing does make a difference. When Los Angeles acted in 1972, only 11 percent of the licensed dogs were neutered. With differential licensing, it rose to 54 percent in 1979.

I urge the passage of the generic vicious dog law now before the council and encourage officials to seriously consider a differential licensing system.

Keep open mind on développement

To the editor:

Last Wednesday night, Nov. 9, the Granite City Zoning Board of Appeals unanimously denied a request from Winfield to develop 18 homes in the Clark-Mercer field. Originally, he asked for 19.

Seventh Ward Alderman Jeff Worf appeared at the meeting and spoke against the project, as did many of our neighbors.

Winfield has the right to submit a modified proposal or ask the City Council to overturn the Zoning Board on the existing project. We have the right to object. Alderman Worthen has assured me he will work with us to challenge unwanted development.

Disputes such as this rarely end until some sort of acceptable development is proposed. For now, we have made our voices heard and have used the "system" to our advantage. In the future, we should monitor such proposals with an open mind and an eye toward our common best interest.

I wish to thank all those who attended the meeting and the many who called offering moral support.

Plan prayer for diabetes cure

To the editor:

The ravages of diabetes are of special concern to many people in the country. One person in 20 is stricken with this disease and its serious consequences, and no one knows whose family will be hurt next.

Many have donated money over the years and much research has gone into finding a cure — but nothing really positive has come out of it since the discovery of insulin, which controls but does not cure.

A grassroots movement began this summer in Omaha, Neb., and is sweeping the nation to declare Nov. 20, 1988, as an interdenominational day of prayer to call upon God with a united voice and pray in churches and synagogues, prayer groups, and individually that a cure for diabetes might be granted to our research people.

The help of concerned individuals in your community is desperately needed to get the word out to friends and relatives in other areas that they might urge their churches, relatives and friends to participate.

It is strictly a grassroots movement with no central organization. It is relying on the help of many concerned individuals.

Help us to spread the word — and join the many people from coast to coast on Nov. 20 and pray for a cure for diabetes.

Mayor Officer's skill questioned

To the editor:

Referring to the Post-Dispatch Nov. 13, concerning the U.S. considers suing East St. Louis for $9 million. I particularly was suspicious of a quote from Mayor Carl Officer, "I've done so well finding money, everybody wants some."

If Officer is finding so much money, it makes me wonder: he must know where it (the money) unaccounted for was at to begin with.

If East St. Louisans want their city to do the right thing, I feel they should get rid of Mayor Officer and replace him with a more competent person. Please choose a person less egotistical than Carl Officer.

Carl, you probably are a better politician than you are a mayor.

The legacy of Kennedy

I was asked the other day, "What made John F. Kennedy such an immortal President? Was it because he was assassinated?" My immediate reaction was "yes."

Later, however, I thought over my response and decided that there were many reasons that Kennedy's administration will be remembered as among the most significant of this century. Considering that Tuesday, Nov. 22, 1963, is the 25th anniversary of the felling of our national leader, it is significant to look at why.

I was in a second-grade classroom the day my teacher broke the news of the shooting. The kids were happy enough. We were going home early. Little did we realize our young lives were forever changed.

JFK, the youngest man ever elected President, was also really the first to be exposed to the lens of the TV camera in detail. His shooting, the investigation, and the killing of accused Lee Harvey Oswald all became etched on our consciousness. We shared in the tragedy as we watched.

We remembered a man who, the year before, had called the bluff of Soviet premier Khrushchev and got him to back off missile deployment in Cuba.

And while the Cold War continued, JFK urged us to send man to the moon. He saw the significance of such an achievement long before most of us, but he never lived to see it happen.

The same man issued the executive order establishing the Peace Corps, aimed at helping the world's struggle to "break the bonds of mass misery."

Ironically, already in motion was an escalation of American involvement in Vietnam, a conflict that changed not only the way the world looked at war, but the way its participants looked at each other.

Conceivably, however, it was his death that did more to change this country than any personal achievement. It made us all appreciate, and perhaps become more comfortable with, our mortality.

After other Dallas, America changed, both for better and worse. The change might otherwise have happened, but certainly the catalyst was our memory of the President.

Readers react

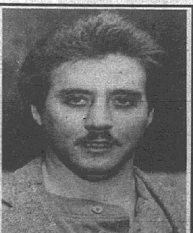

Is negative campaign the way of future?

Is the negative campaigning prevalent during this election season characteristic of the candidates or the political climate? Or do you think negative campaigning is the way future elections will be run?

Larry Wolf,
Granite City

"I don't know if it's the way of the future. Anytime you have negative campaigning you aren't running against the person, but how you portray your opponent to the voters. I think it turns voters off."

Lance Hunt,
Granite City

"I think the mud slinging's fine. I don't think (the presidential race) was dirty enough. There could have been more brought out about both candidates."

Raymond O'Bear,
Granite City

"I think it's going to be the way of the future until the voters decide otherwise. As long as the voters let it go on, it will go on. We get what we deserve."

Coker joins Crews Realty

Jaqueline Coker recently joined Crews Realty/Better Homes and Gardens as a sales associate, George Crews, broker-owner, announced. Coker is a lifelong resident of Granite City and recently made the move to residential sales after six years with Reinel Mortgage Co., owned by Ed Reinel, her father. She served in a number of capacities including loan processor and loan closer. She later became a Veterans Administration-approved underwriter and a direct endorsement underwriter approved by the Federal Housing Administration. Coker obtained her Illinois real estate license in February.

Magna earnings increase

William S. Badgley, Magna Group chairman of the board, has announced third-quarter earnings of $4.2 million. This represents an increase of 6.8 percent over the same quarter last year, he said.

Earnings per share increased to 41 from 39 cents a year ago. On Sept. 30, 1988, Magna completed the acquisition of First Bancorp of Mascoutah Ltd.

On a year-to-date basis, Magna banks' earnings totaled $12.9 million, an increase of 8.5 percent over 1987 earnings of $11.9 million. Earnings per share for the first nine months of 1988 were $1.25, compared to $1.19 for 1987.

"Continued emphasis on maintaining interest margins, controlling non-interest expenses, improving operational efficiencies and stressing asset quality has netted Magna record year-to-date earnings," said Badgley.

"Also contributing to earnings has been the continued strong consumer loan demand in many of our markets."

The allowance for loan losses increased $1.1 million from Sept. 30, 1987. At Sept. 30, 1988, the allowance of $13.8 million was 1.08 percent of total loans, net of unearned income, compared to $11.9 million or 1.04 percent at Dec. 31, 1987.

Total assets, as of Sept. 30 were $2.06 billion, an 11.4 percent increase from $1.85 billion a year earlier. Total deposits increased 9.1 percent to $1.78 billion from $1.63 billion a year earlier.

Loans, net of unearned income, were $1.27 billion, up 13.4 percent from $1.12 billion at Sept. 30, 1987. Stockholders' equity rose 14.6 percent to $151 million from $132 million a year earlier.

Also announced was the board's declaration of the fourth-quarter dividend of 17 cents per share. It will be paid to all stockholders of record Nov. 15 and is payable on Dec. 10.

Magna Group Inc., a multi-bank holding company, headquartered in Belleville, owns 13 banks representing more than 40 banking locations in central and southern Illinois, a trust company, and a data processing company.

About real estate

By Don Campbell

Bi-weekly mortgage payments mean one extra payment a year

Dear Mr. Campbell:

Some time ago I read an article about making two payments a month on a mortgage instead of one. The lady at my local newspaper thought it might be you who did it.

E.K.

Answer: It could very well have been. When you shoot off your mouth as much as I do, most real estate subjects surface sooner or later.

Yes, this is the "bi-weekly" mortgage and, instead of paying your full monthly payment once a month you pay half of it every other week. That means that there are two months a year when you are paying half of your payment three times. Depending on the interest rate it will normally cut a 30-year mortgage down to about 18.5 years and will cut the amount paid in interest roughly in half.

Almost the same result can be obtained, though, by simply making your normal 12 payments a year and then, once a year, throwing in an extra full payment.

Dear Mr. Campbell:

I read with interest your recent article regarding whether or not the loan originator would be held liable if the person assuming a VA loan defaulted. Five years ago my husband took out our assets and invested them in a business. We then searched for a low down-payment home to purchase and assumed a VA loan.

He was killed in a plane accident in January and I have been unable to sell this home for enough to cover the loan balance and the broker's fees. I am unable to continue to make the payments. If I were to walk out on this loan, would they go back to the man we bought it from, or would they just sell it and enjoy the enormous profit, roughly $85,000, that has accrued in this time?

C.L.C.

Answer: If there's such an "enormous profit" existing in this house, why can't you sell it and pay off the balance? Yes, you can let your bottom dollar that if you walk out on this loan, the VA will go back to the man from whom you bought it and press him for any "deficiency judgment" existing, any dollar difference, that is, between what the foreclosed house actually sells for and what is owing on the mortgage.

You have a very definite responsibility here to go back to the person whose loan you assumed, before you default on a single payment, and make sure that, at the time of the assumption, he obtained a "release of liability" from the VA. If he didn't, then you have an even deeper moral and ethical responsibility to keep current with your payments under the loan you assumed with the VA and, retroactively, obtain such a release.

I'm not minimizing the hardship and the heart-break that you have suffered here, but fair is fair.

Jury awards man $2.5 million in first of 2,200 asbestos cases

EDWARDSVILLE — An East Alton man was awarded $2.5 million by a Madison County jury Thursday in the first of more than 2,200 asbestos cases filed in the county.

Norman Mercey, 72, a retired pipe insulator at Shell Oil Co. in Wood River, won the damages from Celotex Corp., an asbestos manufacturer based in Tampa, Fla.

Mercey claimed that exposure to asbestos, a lung carcinogen, badly scarred his lungs, making it difficult for him to breathe.

Mercey had also filed suit against 15 other companies. The jury found in favor of one of the companies, two were dismissed from the case, one was dropped and one was out of settlement was reached with 11 others.

The terms of those settlements were not made public. After about five hours of deliberation Wednesday and Thursday, jurors awarded Mercey $583,000 in actual damages, and $2,000,011 in punitive damages.

Attorneys for the company said they may appeal.

The second of the pending asbestos cases is already under way. Jurors were chosen Monday in a case involving a Jerseyville man employed at Laclede Steel Co. in Alton. Sixteen defendants, whose products the plaintiff has alleged caused his cancer, have since 1959, have been named in multiple counts, each counting seeking $15,000 in damages.

Ambuehl continues DeWitt's tradition

DeWitt Decorating, one of the oldest businesses in Granite City, is now owned by a long-time employee, Adelbert "Sonny" Ambuehl.

An employee for the past 33 years, he purchased the 71-year-old company from the founder's son, James P. DeWitt.

Pete DeWitt started the DeWitt Painting Company in 1917, in the Kahle Hardware Building, 1839 Delmar Ave. in the downtown business district of Granite City. His brother, John DeWitt, joined him in the business to direct the retail division while Pete DeWitt handled commercial contracting.

The DeWitt brothers eventually bought the building and, in later years, expanded the store to twice its original size.

James DeWitt joined the family business in 1948 and was responsible for much of its expansion, reddy the company opened a second store on Pontoon Road in 1959. That facility was managed by the late Dick Hodshire.

DeWitt's further expanded along with the growth of the Namecki residential area by opening a home decorating center, the operation's current facility at 2113 Johnson Road.

DeWitt and Hodshire managed the suburban store while Ambuehl managed the downtown store. As downtown business activity slowed, the store was closed in 1971 and the suburban operation was expanded.

Many Granite Citizens have worked for DeWitt's through the years, including Mayor Von Dee Cruise.

Other employees included A.E. Woldridge, who operates his own accounting firm in Edwardsville, Richard Reber, an airline broker in Key Biscayne, Fla. and Ronald "Pete" Stiel, a furniture manufacturer in Alton, Tenn.

Other employees through the years have been David Ferguson, Charles Polley, Red Shepherd, John Bellmore and Randy Lambert.

Interior decorators who have worked for DeWitt's are Peggy Stevens, Frances Hartman, Patty Fleishman, Vi Mueller and Phyllis Wieser.

Sonny Ambuehl, the new owner, joined the staff in 1955, working part-time after school. He went on to manage the downtown store until it closed, and was named manager of the suburban operation when Hodshire retired.

Ambuehl, along with this wife, Karan, plans to carry on the same tradition of DeWitt Decorating.

"We are thankful to our many loyal customers and friends who have helped build this business, and plan to continue serving them in a professional manner for many years to come," said Ambuehl.

DeWitt's carries a full time of decorating supplies including paint, wall coverings, draperies, floor coverings, as well as wall accessories and a custom picture-framing department.

Working with the Ambuehls are Linda McKeehan, an interior decorator, and James Morrissey, a floor covering specialist.

Consumer tips

Pros and cons to two types of car lease options discussed

(Consumer tips by Illinois Attorney General F. Hardigan)

Q. What kind of car lease are available?

A. There are two types of lease contracts: the closed-end lease and the open-end lease.

Under the closed-end lease, you return the vehicle to the lessor at the end of the lease term and walk away.

Unless you have seriously damaged the vehicle, given it more than normal wear or driven it more miles than the lease permits, you are not responsible for the value of the vehicle at the end of the lease term.

Your lease payments will generally be higher, since the lessor is taking the risk as to what the value of the car will be upon its return.

The open-end lease generally has lower periodic payments because you take the risk that at the end of the lease, the vehicle will be worth an amount specified in the lease documents.

When you return the vehicle, the lessor will either sell or appraise it and compare that amount with the value stated in the lease.

Under the Consumer Leasing Act, you have the right, at your expense, to obtain an independent appraisal by someone agreed to by both you and the lessor. If you do get an independent appraisal, you and the lessor are bound by it.

Under the Consumer Leasing Act, the lessor, in most cases, cannot collect an end-of-lease payment that is more than three times the average monthly payment.

However, the lessor can collect a higher amount after the value has been determined if you agree to pay the greater amount, the vehicle has suffered unreasonable wear or excessive use, or the lessor wins a lawsuit seeking a higher amount.

Q. I am thinking of buying life insurance. Can you give me some tips?

A. When persons decide they need life insurance, they will sometimes sign up for the first life insurance policy that comes along. That's not smart shopping.

There are two basic types of life insurance policies: term insurance and whole life insurance.

Term insurance covers you for a specified length of time — typically one, five, 10, 20 years, or until age 65. Term insurance is attractive to many people because it provides maximum coverage at a low cost. At the end of the term, the coverage stops. When you renew, the premiums generally rise because you are older.

Another type of term insurance has level payments, but the coverage decreases gradually. Insurance to pay off a mortgage is an example of this type.

Whole life insurance is protection that can be kept in force for as long as you live. It has higher premiums than term, but the costs are averaged out over your lifetime.

VEHICLE FIRE approximately 300 feet off of Sand Prairie Lane, one mile east of Bischoff Road in Nameoki Township, is fought by Long Lake volunteer firefighters shortly after 3:30 a.m. Nov. 7. The 1978 Midget motor home, owned by Michael Beyer, 24 Green Acres, Edwardsville, was found in flames by a Madison County sheriff's deputy. The vehicle had not been reported stolen at the time of the fire, which destroyed it. Firefighters were on the scene for about 1½ hours.

Windle, 51, of the 1800 block of Sixth Street, whose pickup truck was westbound on Third Street, told police he pulled into the intersection because his vision was obscured by a building and because the vehicle's accelerator stuck.

Windle's truck rolled into the northbound lane of State Street where a collision occurred with a car operated by Rufus F. Levart, 49, of the 2300 block of Center Street, Granite City.

Levart, Windle and two passengers in the truck, Warren S. Kemper, 38, and Brenda J. Lindsey, 23, both of the 1600 block of Seventh Street, all suffered injuries.

Woman struck in face

Martin Van Buren, Connie Mack, Dewey, Truman on my mind

George Bush, assailed for his jam-packed job resume, soon will add the ultimate resume notation: "1988—President of the United States."

Bush, a 40-state winner; State Rep. Sam Wolf re-elected by 2-1; the drainage election decided by a razor-thin margin.

No, I didn't make those predictions publicly, just in newsroom discussions.

But, on the other hand, I thought Bush might lose Illinois due to strong efforts in the state by the Rev. Jesse Jackson and others, but Bush won the state by 110,000 votes. (Some TV "experts" awarded Illinois to the other candidate and then had to backtrack.)

NOT SINCE 1836 had a vice president (Martin Van Buren)

advanced immediately to the presidency by popular votes.

Not since 1904 had less than half the voters cast ballots in a presidential election (Madison County voters in '88 had a 78 percent turnout — 101,978 of 130,540).

Not since 1960 had a candidate gained the presidency while his party was losing ground in both the House and Senate.

FOR THE RECORD, Democrats gained one and now hold 28 of the 50 governorships. The governor's office was not on the Illinois ballot; Democrats retained control of the Assembly.

Democrats appeared to improve their margin in the U.S. House from 258-174 (with three vacancies) to 261-174.

Democrats' 54-46 U.S. Senate

Regional Roundup

By Bill Winter

edge increased to 55-45 and would have gone higher had not Republican Connie Mack nosed out "Buddy" MacKay for a Florida Senate seat.

Mack is a grandson of long-time major league baseball manager Connie Mack (also known as Cornelius McGillicuddy).

BASED ON EXIT POLLS as voters were departing, three TV networks declared MacKay the victor; he also was called the winner in a newspaper banner headline reminiscent of the "Dewey defeats Truman" Chicago Tribune headline in 1948.

Democrat Ken Boyce, a former state representative (1970-76) and the 1976-80 state's attorney of Macoupin County, was elected as one of the new trustees of the University of Illinois.

Two other six-year U. of I. board terms went to Republicans Donald Korbowski and Judith Reese. A partial university board term was won by Democrat Gloria Bacon.

FOR VARIED REASONS, voters loudly slammed the door on a convention to rewrite the 1970 Illinois Constitution.

The proposal, due to be submitted to voters again in the year 2000, was defeated by a 3-1 margin and lost in every county. (Belleville's Alan Dixon, I believe, is the only person to have won statewide by carrying all 102 Illinois counties.)

OUR CONSTITUTION was amended (64 percent support) to include voting at age 18 after 30-day residency, but streamlining of the sale of tax-delinquent real estate was defeated (59 instead of the needed 60 percent).

Creation of a "super city" including Rock Island, Moline, East Moline, Coal Valley and Hampton lost 2-1.

Edwardsville school proposals — including a new high school — suffered a 3-1 defeat but a school tax increase won in Columbia.

WOMEN DO WELL in Madison County balloting. County Clerk Evelyn Bowles leads whenever she is on the ballot.

This fall, Mrs. Dallas Burke, county coroner, led with 75,995 votes.

Bill Haine received 74,604 and was the new state's attorney.

Democrats were unbeatable in this county but their strong effort for Jay Hoffman in the 10th District fell short. Troy Republican Ron Stephens, a Granite City businessman, was re-elected as a state representative 21,173 to 10,667.

REDISTRICTING after the 1990 census will be done to the advantage of the Democratic Party, authorities predict, since Democrats on Nov. 8 maintained control over most of the nation's legislative houses and senates.

State lawmakers will draw new Congressional district boundaries to reflect population changes during the past decade.

Illinois will see its 22 districts decrease to 21 or 20, probably 20. The new boundaries will be in effect for federal election races starting in 1992.

Skilled remaps can allow a party to win extra Congressional seats by protecting its own turf and dividing enemy strongholds.

DEMOCRATS HAVE WON only one of the last six presidential races but they remain strong.

They now will have a 32-16 advantage in controlling state Senate and 36-12 superiority in state Houses.

Democrats regained control of the New Mexico Senate. In Indiana, Democrats picked up one House seat to draw even with the Republicans, 50-50. Republicans took control of the Vermont House.

In Montana, Republicans moved back into control of the Senate but Democrats captured control of the House.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD why the national candidates and their relatives almost seemed to set up permanent residency in the bi-state area, including St. Louis, Alton, Granite City, East St. Louis and Belleville.

Both parties' polling showed Missouri and Illinois were so close they could be won by either party.

Bush was aided by his confidence that he had a solid hold on southern and southwestern states.

THAT ENABLED BUSH to compete, as did Michael Dukakis, on Dukakis' strongest areas, the Northeast and Midwest.

The rivals visited our area nearly every week of the campaign.

But the 1988 emphasis on Metro East was not quite as great as in 1972, when George McGovern spent an entire Saturday evening campaigning in the Granite City High School gymnasium, three days before he lost to Richard Nixon's Watergate election landslide.

'They Live' creates interesting premise, leaves out serious aspect

By Harry Hamm
Staff affiliate

Director John Carpenter has the distinction of directing, scoring and co-authoring "Halloween," the 1978 motion picture that is the highest grossing motion picture ever produced by an independent film company.

Some better-known films Carpenter has directed are "Escape From New York" (1980), remake of "The Thing" (1982), and "Christine" (1983).

Carpenter has directed yet another science-fiction film, "They Live" 1/2 (fair).

Ex-wrestler turned actor "Rowdy" Roddy Piper stars as John Nada, a knock-about laborer who arrives in Los Angeles in some unspecified year of the 1990s.

Nada finds temporary work on a construction site and moves into a shanty-town type settlement on a vacant lot.

Through a set of violent circumstances that occur in an old church across the street from the settlement, Nada discovers several things including what looks like a box full of harmless blue sunglasses.

However, once he wears the glasses, Nada sees and learns that every other human on the street is not human.

He also discovers that most forms of public media are infested with subliminal messages designed to bring our country to ruin so it can be inhabited by aliens.

"They Live" poses an interesting premise. Could our society be secretly manipulated by a nationwide campaign of subliminal messages in the media?

Rated R (violence, language). Running time: 98 minutes.

Debevc, Stone shining lights for Warrior soccer in '88 Lady Warrior sniper All-American Watchwords on Stone: Speed kills

By Dave Whaley

Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — A new era dawned for high school girls soccer in Granite City last spring. Many would credit Gene Baker for that. But Jennifer Debevc put her own signature near the top.

In her first year of varsity soccer, Debevc established herself as the premier player in southern Illinois when she struck for 14 goals. The honors continued to roll in as Debevc was named to the all-state team.

Then, at the boys state soccer tournament in Palatine, two weeks ago, Baker learned that Debevc had been named a high school All-American by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

Baker has lost count of how many All-Americans he has had in 16 years as the boys coach in Granite City — "around 12 or so." But Debevc is the first "Granite City girl to receive the honor, and Baker could hardly conceal his joy.

"Jennifer is one of my favorite people," said Baker. "She is just so intelligent and genuine. I'm really a fan of hers."

Her bright personality was one thing which made him a fan. The 14 goals didn't hurt, either. Combining with senior Ann Szczepanki to make the all-consonant team, Debevc, who still has a year left — helped lead the Lady Warriors to a 13-4-2 record and to within one game of the first-ever girls state tournament.

"I never really thought about being All-American," said

Debevc. "I just went out to have a successful season and make it to state. That's our goal this year, to go to state."

The Lady Warriors were close to state last spring — as close as one penalty kick from Debevc. That was the one blemish on an otherwise outstanding junior season. The Warriors and the Lady Kahoks of Collinsville were tied 1-1 after regulation time and four five-minute overtimes in the sectional title game at Collinsville's Football Bowl on May 24. With the teams tied 3-3 in penalty kicks, Debevc had the last shot of the first round. But Kahok keeper Julie Corrie smothered her shot and the Lady Kahoks won in the next round of PKs.

Baker took the blame. "It was my fault," he said.

GRANITE CITY — If it's true that speed kills, then Scott Stone's picture should be up in the post office: Wanted for murder.

There are many things to be said about Stone, the senior all-stater who led the Warrior soccer team in scoring in both of his varsity seasons. But there is one thing you just keep coming back to: The guy can fly.

"He's the fastest player we've ever had here," Warrior coach Gene Baker said without hesitation. "The only one I can think of who can compare is Mike Martinez, and that goes back to 1973."

Scott Stone

"Stoner" put those flying feet to good use. He tallied 24 goals and 15 assists in two seasons for 63 points. And those totals might have read something like 35 goals and 20 assists if he had played two full seasons.

He was ineligible for the first three games of his junior season in 1987, but returned to lead the team with nine goals and four assists, including the assist on Herb Heaton's goal to win the state title.

This season was even better, yet more disappointing. Stone connected for 15 goals and 11 assists. But the teachers strike cost the Warriors nine forfeit losses and 12 games in all. And there was no state title.

"It bugs me to think of all that," said Stone. "But there's nothing we can do about it now." The combination of the strike and Baker's mercy likely cost Stone a 35-goal season.

STONE'S flashy play helped the Warriors to third place in the state tournament.

"I said when the year started I could get more than nine goals," Stone said. "And I thought I could get 25. Our scoring was more spread out last year. But I figured it would be me and Bob Strubberg this year. Then Bobby got moved to the backfield and it was up to me."

He came through in a big way. The result was all-Tournament of Champions, all-sectional, all-state, all-state tournament, and a berth on the Chicago Tribune's 11-man Dream Team. Still to come is Parade Magazine.

Bowland Lanes would like to announce and congratulate 16 bowlers for placing in the nation's top ten in seven different categories.

Doug Buehrer, 15, son of Dave and Patty Buehrer and a sophomore at Granite City High School, bowled an 802 series on April 30. Doug bowled a 263, 269 and 270. He finished league play with a 227 average. He has since bowled two 300 games, of which one was sanctioned in league play. Buehrer has been bowling since he was 8.

In the Bantam Boys division, the La Bambas rolled a team game of 889 and a team series of 1730 on April 30 at the Country Tyne Lanes during the state tournament held in Kiantoul. The La Bambas are Joey Byrd, 8, son of Richard and Shirley Byrd; Christopher (7) and Jason (8) Lemler, children of Gary and Lavonia Lemler; and Mark (8) and Nicholas (9) Thomas, children of Pattie Thomas.

In the Bantam Girls division, the Barbie Dolls rolled a team game of 876 and a team series of 1690 on April 30 at Country Tyne. The Barbie Dolls are Jordana Cozair, 5, daughter of John and Jan Cozair; Theresa Dames, 9, daughter of Mike and Donna Dames; Crystal Timmons, 9, daughter of John and Janet Timmons; Erin Graham, 6, daughter of Arron and Leslie Graham; and Julie Padgett, 6, daughter of Harrison and Brenda Padgett.

In the prep mixed division, the Strike Outs rolled a team game of 889 and a team series of 2561 on April 30 at Country Tyne. The Strike Outs are Jaime Beaver, 14, daughter of Lynn and Gail Beaver; Amy Grady, 14, daughter of Ron and Debbie Grady; Melanie Gosnell, 11, daughter of Bud and Sandy Gosnell; and Brynna (10) and Heather (12) Carr, children of Beverly Carr.

For their accomplishments, each bowler will receive a colorful YABA Nation's Top Ten emblem and a special certificate. They will also be recognized in the first issue of YABA World, the official publication of YABA. The awards culminate a year of competition involving approximately 700,000 YABA league members in five age divisions throughout the United States.

This is the second year junior bowlers from this area have made the nation's top ten. The Bowland Junior Leagues are under the direction of Shirley Byrd.

Photos of the above teams will appear in an upcoming issue.

Debevc

"But I wouldn't mind having her in the same situation this season."

"So many things were running through my mind," Debevc said. "There was a certain spot I wanted to put the shot. I had never been in a situation that important before. Experience was a big factor. It should help me for the next time."

"But it's unlikely the Lady Warriors would have been in position to win without Debevc."

"I have my teammates to thank for making some great plays," said Debevc. "I wasn't thinking of scoring that many goals when the year started, but I got some help from everybody."

Debevc gives plenty of credit to Baker, who took over the girls program last year. She was no stranger to Baker, having attended his camps several times.

"He really improved my confidence level," she said. "And he introduced some new formations and new systems to us. I have to give him a lot of credit for the season I had. And we wouldn't have had the kind of year we had as a team without him."

"She has outstanding field presence and is a leader through example," Baker said. "The quality of person she is rubs off on others. She's a good student and, like so many of the good male players we have had, her parents are quality people. I wish she had a little brother coming up in the program."

Debevc started playing at age 10 and said she has always been a scorer. She wants to improve on 14 goals next spring, but that's not No. 1 on the list.

"My main goal is making it to the state tournament," she said. After that is likely a college soccer career. Schools such as Notre Dame, Connecticut and Lewis University have been in contact, but no decision has been made yet.

Meanwhile, Debevc continues playing for Club Irish, a select team in St. Louis. The team plays throughout the summer and fall, with the Missouri state tournament coming up in December.

"We're favored to win it," Debevc said. With a winner like Jennifer Debevc on the team, that's no surprise.

Stone

zine's All-American team, to be announced in January. "I hope I can make that," said Stone. "It was happy that I got more assists this year. I wanted to improve my assist rate from four."

Stone was a constant threat for goals and assists, often combining with John VanBuskirk for some pretty goals. And for all the goals he scored, perhaps his most memorable play was an assist. It came with two seconds left in regulation time of the state quarterfinal game against St. Charles.

"I was standing at midfield when Chris Nolan blocked a shot," Stone said. "It came to me, I turned and saw there were 13 seconds left. I tried to beat the guy (Ryan Lakin) outside, but he grabbed my shorts. There was no whistle, so I grabbed his shirt and threw him down. I saw two of our shirts and passed the ball in front."

The ball went past Danny Weathers but right to Matt Cook, who blasted it home. "I had been kind of gun shy on the muddy field all day," said Stone. "But I had nothing to lose there."

Stone scored the Warriors' only goal in the 2-1 semifinal loss to Buffalo Grove the next day. In fact, he scored at least once in each of the post-season games and had a point in each of the last 11 games. And he was battling a cold through much of the post-season.

"He really devoted himself to becoming a dominant player," said Baker. "And there were some games that we didn't pour it on the other team or he would have had even more goals."

So where does Stone rank on the all-time Warrior list?

"He's in the lineup," said Baker. "We have always had a saying here: 'Be the best with that number.' Dave Fernandez's No. 10 is the only one we've retired. Scott is right at the top of the 8's."

Not bad for a kid who spent several years living in Arkansas, not exactly a soccer hotbed. Stone moved there in sixth grade and stayed through his sophomore year.

"But I wanted to be with my friends," Stone said. "Chris Ryan and I have been best friends since kindergarten."

So it was back to Granite City for his junior year. He now lives with an uncle and aunt. "His dad has a good job," Baker said. "But it's something that requires them to move a lot."

Fortunately for Baker and the Warriors, Scott settled here for two big seasons. Now he is being courted by several NCAA Division I schools like Nevada-Las Vegas, Syracuse, SMU, Clemson, Indiana, Wright State, SIUE and St. Louis U.

"I haven't made any visits yet," said Stone. "It wouldn't matter if I stayed close or went far away. I've been living away from home for a while now anyway."

Stone said he will likely put his speed to use in track this spring, running all the sprint events. He has been timed at 4.4 in the 40-yard dash. He also played football and basketball in Arkansas. He played baseball when he was younger. What a pinch-runner he could be now.

At 5-9, 145 pounds, Stone is planning to put on about 20 pounds for college soccer. "But no steroids," he said.

No, because steroids are killers. Speed kills, too. Scott Stone is murderous in that department.

FOOTBALL WEEKEND

Slayhawks? Kansas Might Be Woody's Last Gasp

By Mark McCall
Journal Staff Writer

The University of Missouri's football season is ending Saturday, but the football program likely will stay in the news over the next few weeks. Missouri and Kansas will meet at 1 p.m. Saturday in Lawrence, Kan. (KMOX-AM, 1120) for the 97th installment of the oldest football rivalry west of the Mississippi River.

And because a seventh place finish in the Big Eight Conference is all that is at stake in the game, the next few weeks in Columbia figure to be tumultuous. Before the season, Missouri was expected in some quarters to finish as high as third-place this year. Coach Woody Widenhofer predicted, even guaranteed, a bowl game for the Tigers.

But it hasn't happened. The Tigers are coming into the Kansas game with a 2-7-1 record. Widenhofer has been on the hot seat since the second week of the season, when the Tigers were blown out 31-7 by Houston.

Missouri has shown a tendency to play up to its competition. Three weeks ago, the Tigers put forth their best effort of the year and nearly upset Nebraska. But the next week in Columbia, Missouri fell victim to Colorado in a 45-7 rout.

Last weekend against Oklahoma, Missouri came back with another solid effort in a 16-7 defeat. Afterwards, Widenhofer was unable to explain his team's behavior.

"I guess the mystery goes on," he said. "This was a good Missouri football team that showed up today, playing against a really fine football team."

Most people close to the situation are speculating that Widenhofer, who's at the end of a four-year contract, will be let go by the university after the season. With a win over Kansas, Widenhofer's four-year career record at Missouri would be 12-31-1.

Dick Tamburo, Missouri's athletic director, evidently will be the man to make the final decision on Widenhofer's fate. Tamburo has been fairly close-mouthed about the situation, but did say something would be done soon.

With redshirt freshman Brad Fitzmaurice (17) at the helm, expect to see something different than this Missouri grind on the ground.

So with the speculation continuing, Widenhofer will take his team into Lawrence for the final game of 1988. One thing Widenhofer has been able to do is beat Kansas regularly. Missouri won last year's game in Columbia 19-7.

And it's been another down year for the Jayhawks. Under first-year coach Glen Mason, Kansas is 1-9 on the season, with the lone win coming over winless Kansas State.

However, one thing in the Jayhawks' favor is that Missouri probably will be without one of its primary offensive weapons. Freshman quarterback Corey Welch, who has been the Tigers starting quarterback for the past month, went down with a knee injury against Oklahoma.

A native of Kansas, Welch said after last week's game that he was disappointed about missing the game with the Jayhawks.

"That's really painful," Welch said. "I've always wanted to go back and play in my home state. But it looks like I won't be able to make it next week, and that's going to take a lot out of me."

Welch is being replaced by Brad Fitzmaurice. With Fitzmaurice at the helm, the Tigers likely will open up the offense. The redshirt freshman from Jefferson City completed 11 of 23 passes for 150 yards against Oklahoma.

If the Tigers continue the pattern they've developed over the course of the season, they will be in for a long afternoon Saturday.

Mackovic is Hoping Third Time Against New Wildcats A Charm

By Jim Woodcock
Journal Staff Writer

The Fighting Illini received word Tuesday that they'll open their 1989 season Sept. 2 against USC in all places, the Soviet Union.

That itinerary is not of immediate concern. The Illini would much rather be making plans to visit somewhat less-integrating locales—perhaps Birmingham, Ala., site of the 1988 All-American Bowl on Dec. 20.

The conventional wisdom in Champaign is the Illini are assured of an invitation to play in the All-American Bowl if they can defeat Northwestern at home in their season finale Saturday (1 p.m.; KMOX-AM, 630). A win would give Illinois a 6-4 record, which is considered more than acceptable for the standards of minor bowl games such as the All-American Bowl.

The Illini still have an outside shot at various other bowl games, such as the Peach and Liberty, if candidates for those contests falter this weekend and Illinois closes its season with a decisive victory over the 7-1 Wildcats. On the other hand, the Illini can begin planning a quiet holiday season if they do not win Saturday.

And there is precedent for surprises from Northwestern. Illinois will be attempting to break a two-game losing streak against the Wildcats, who have ended each of their past two seasons by upsetting Illinois.

"The All-American Bowl is a nice incentive," Illini coach John Mackovic admitted, "but more than anything, this game is important for our program. The fact that we can end with a winning season. And also, we haven't beaten Northwestern for two years. The most difficult thing for us is Northwestern is probably playing their best football of the season at this time of the year.

"So there are a lot of things riding on this game. If the bowl bid comes about, and certainly we anticipate some good things if we win, certainly it will be a tremendous thing for our team and well-deserved."

The Illini should be especially wary of the Wildcats after last weekend. Playing host to Purdue, the Wildcats scored 21 points in the fourth quarter to win 28-7 and snap a 12-game losing streak with the Boilermakers that dated back to 1976.

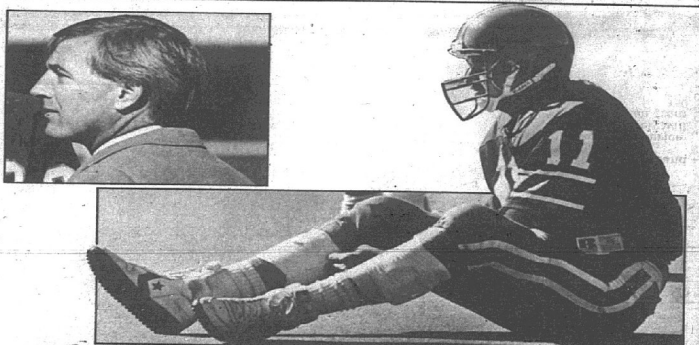

The victory was the second in four weeks for the Wildcats, who are tied with Ohio State for seventh place in the Big Ten at 2-4-1. With Ohio State playing host to Rose Bowl-bound and heavily favored Michigan on Saturday, and sixth-place Purdue facing favored Indiana, a win for Northwestern could mean sole possession of sixth place for the Wildcats at the end of the season.

That would be nearly as eye-opening as the 1988 Illini, whose storybook bid for a Rose Bowl berth crashed hard last Saturday at Michigan.

Illinois entered the game with a 4-1-1 league mark and would have had the inside track for Pasadena had it not been for a pack of Wolverines. Michigan overwhelmed Illinois 38-9, dropping the Illini into fourth place in the league at 4-2-1 while securing the right to play in the Rose Bowl against the winner of Saturday's UCLA-USC contest in Los Angeles.

"We played hard and tough there," Mackovic said of the Michigan game. "Now we have to be able to bounce back a little bit. Even though last week's game was a big game and it meant something, I believe we can approach things correctly and our players will emotionally feel proper about this game as well."

Northwestern coach Francis Peay, a 1966 graduate of the University of Missouri and an All-American offensive guard for the Tigers, is 2-0 against Illinois since coming to the Wildcats prior to the 1986 season. Peay said Tuesday that he doesn't think the Wildcats will need much of an emotional boost against Illinois.

Fighting Illini quarterback Jeff George was down after the Wolverines, but he's by no means out. Coach John Mackovic (inset) may take his surprising team to a bowl if they beat Northwestern.

However, Peay is also aware of the shift in circumstances surrounding this contest. The Illini were going nowhere in each of their previous two season finales against the Wildcats.

"It's going to be very difficult this year because they're having not only an outstanding season, but they're worthy of being a bowl-bound team," Peay said. "They have a number of weapons, and they employ those weapons very, very well."

"We're looking at the game as another game on our schedule, but it's also the final game on our schedule and an intrastate rivalry. The fact they're bowl-bound should be a motivating factor for us, but we don't want to be spoilers. We want to be winners. What happens as far as Illinois is concerned, as far as bowl games, is going to be no concern of ours."
